

Outer-Product View

Key idea: one column of A and one row of B update many output elements at once.